Subrosa Group:

A comprehensive Security Threat and Risk Management partner for large corporations

In today's complex business environment, large corporations face a multitude of threat and risk challenges. From internal investigations and employee protection to physical security and surveillance, the demands on corporate security departments can be overwhelming, especially during peak periods of demand or critical incidents. This is where Subrosa Group's expertise and comprehensive suite of services can provide invaluable support.

SUBROSA GROUP'S CAPABILITIES:

Subrosa Group is a leading business intelligence and security company with a proven track record of assisting large corporations in managing a wide range of threat, risk and security concerns.

OUR SERVICES INCLUDE:

Investigations Subrosa Group conducts thorough and discreet investigations into various matters, including fraud, theft, corruption, workplace harassment and employee misconduct. Our team of experienced investigators use advanced techniques and technology to collate actionable intelligence and gather evidence.

Surveillance Subrosa Group undertake appropriate and proportionate covert surveillance operations to monitor individuals or situations, gather evidence, and identify potential threats. Our highly experienced surveillance operatives can be used for proactive or protective purposes to ensure discreet and effective monitoring.

Executive Protection Subrosa Group offers comprehensive executive protection services to safeguard high-profile individuals from potential harm. Our close protection officers predominantly have former military or police backgrounds and are highly trained and experienced in threat assessment, risk mitigation, and protective security measures.

Employee Support Subrosa Group provides a supportive presence and technical guidance to families, legal representatives and employers of victims suffering stalking, harassment, or domestic violence crimes. Our services include risk assessment, safety planning, and liaison with law enforcement agencies.

Physical Security Subrosa Group conducts security audits and risk assessments to identify vulnerabilities in physical security measures. We provide recommendations and implement solutions to enhance security at corporate buildings, including access control systems, CCTV installation, and security personnel deployment.

Why large Corporates may struggle to manage security in-house:

Limited Resources Corporate security departments often have limited resources and personnel, causing logistical challenges and impact upon 'business as normal', when required to handle a surge in demand during peak periods or critical incidents.

Lack of Specialised Expertise Addressing complex security challenges requires a layered and integrated security response. This requires access to specialised knowledge and skills that may not be readily available within the in-house security team.

Cost Constraints Hiring and training specialised security personnel and investing in advanced security technology is considered cost prohibitive, especially when it is infrequently required.

Internal Bias / Influence Internal investigations can be hampered by internal politics and biases, potentially compromising the objectivity and effectiveness of their outcomes.

HOW SUBROSA GROUP SUPPORTS LARGE CORPORATIONS:

Enhanced Capacity Subrosa Group provides immediate access to a pool of highly trained and experienced security professionals, which augment the corporate security team's capabilities during peak demand.

Specialised Expertise Subrosa Group's experts possess in-depth knowledge and skills in various security disciplines, ensuring effective handling of complex investigations, surveillance operations, and executive protection.

Cost-Effectiveness Outsourcing to Subrosa Group eliminates the need for significant investment in personnel, training, and technology, providing a cost-effective solution for specialised security needs.

Objectivity and Discretion Subrosa Group operates with the utmost discretion and objectivity, ensuring unbiased investigations and professional handling of sensitive matters.

Proactive Risk Mitigation Subrosa Group's proactive approach to security helps identify and mitigate potential threats before they escalate, minimising disruptions and protecting corporate assets and personnel.
